

A person is captured in a dynamic pose, wearing a vibrant, multi-colored costume. The costume features a large, flowing skirt with shades of orange, red, and yellow, and a long, draped sash in shades of purple, blue, and green. The person's arms are raised, and the fabric of the costume is caught in motion, creating a sense of fluidity and movement. The background is dark, which makes the bright colors of the costume stand out. The overall mood is energetic and artistic.

Dance is very much like life itself, in that it moves and it changes, both during the course of any given performance and over time.

This series portrays an Azerbaijani belly dancer and an Egyptian Tanoura Sufi dancer. These dancers were performing under the moonlight at a desert camp in Abu Dhabi in April 2018. The graceful, gyrating belly dance and the whirling, twirling Sufi dance were mesmerizing and enchanting.
