Fooled me: We love Andre Rieu

Wandering through the Hague on a Sunday in the spring of 2018, I came across a group of senior citizens performing the music of Andre Rieu.

It wasn't until I finished taking a few photos that I realized that they weren't actually playing instruments, but were using imitation instruments and were playing along to an Andre Rieu recording.

Their acting was simply superb.
