Mix children, warm weather and water and joy breaks out. Worldwide, children have this ability to give voice to true joy when they playing with water in the summer sun--- hence the title, which reads: water plus humans equals joy.

The first series of images was captured on the sidelines of Baltimore's Charm City Bluegrass Festival in April 2018. On the sidelines of the festival, a hippy bubble master kept the children entertained with a bucket of bubbles.

The second series was taken in Bouzigues, France in mid July 2018. The French had just won the world cup, and to celebrate, the fire brigade in Bouzigues put on a water carnival for the village children. The centerpiece was a water slide named after the sound of pleasure that the children made on it---"WAOUH".
